International and innovative: Cleanzone 2022 presents first exhibitors

Frankfurt am Main, 10.02.2022. Shortly after the start of registration, Cleanzone has already met with a great national and international response. Leading cleanroom technology companies from Germany and abroad, including new faces, have confirmed their participation. Those who register by 18 March will benefit from the early-bird price. The race for the best cleanroom innovation of the year has also begun: Innovative new developments can be submitted to Messe Frankfurt for the Cleanzone Award.

Finally, face-to-face meetings and international exchange again: the cleanroom sector is looking forward to Cleanzone, International trade fair for cleanroom and cleanliness technology, hygiene and contamination control on 23 + 24 November in Frankfurt am Main. Kerstin Horaczek, Vice President Technology Shows at Messe Frankfurt, explains: "The number of registrations at the beginning of the year is better than ever before. We feel the positive mood in the industry and the desire to finally meet again in person at a presence fair after a long absence and to receive impulses for business."

Kemmlit, for example, the specialist for cleanroom furniture, is back on board. Ralf Stahl, Head of Cleanroom Division, explains the decision: "What we particularly appreciate about Cleanzone is that it offers us the opportunity to present our products to national and international customers. In addition, we are particularly pleased this year to be able to make personal contact with customers again after the long Corona break." Other leading cleanroom suppliers from Germany taking part in Cleanzone 2022 include KEK, manufacturer of cleanroom stainless steel furniture, flooring specialist Nora Systems and, for the first time, Schäfer Einrichtungssysteme.

In the product area of architecture, construction and building technology, Cleanzone 2022 welcomes new faces: OTTO Life Science Engineering, manufacturer of turnkey, complex production facilities, and the specialist for modular system Item Industrietechnik will be there for the first time. The German Cleanroom Institute will be presenting itself again this year with a number of member companies. Other long-standing exhibitors at Cleanzone include Daldrop + Dr. Ing. Huber, Pfennig Reinigungstechnik, textile service provider Bardusch and consumables supplier IAB Reinraumprodukte. Managing Director Karoline Matzi: "As a long-standing Cleanzone exhibitor, IAB Reinraumprodukte GmbH, which is celebrating its 40th anniversary this year, is once again looking forward to an informative exchange with its national and international customers and suppliers. In addition, the cleanroom specialist is looking forward to presenting its extensive product range at Cleanzone 2022."

In addition, Cleanzone 2022 has already received numerous registrations from abroad. Metisafe Cleanroom and Biosafety, the Turkish manufacturer of isolators and modular systems for the life science industry, is coming to Frankfurt for the second time. Serdar Tuncer, Managing Director, says: "We are happy to participate again in this professional organization together with exhibitors open to international collaborations. Cleanzone is one of the best opportunities to explain our practical production and application concept in cleanroom solutions to the experts." The Slovenian suppliers of cleanroom technology Cleangrad, Imgrad and Opikar will also be present. New from abroad, the Turkish full-service provider Poli Panel Group Cleanrooms and the Hungarian company Continest with its foldable containers have decided to take part in Cleanzone. Miroslav Tonovski, CEO Poli Panel Group Cleanrooms explains: "Over the years, Cleanzone has become one of the key events synonymous with showcasing the latest Cleanroom solutions and innovations on the international stage.
